Teacher's Information

We request that you take a few moments to provide us with this information. We would like this information before the access code is released for the Teachers' price sheets and special information.

At JDR Brazilian Elegance we give a special discount to all Brazilian Embroidery teachers that are ordering supplies for their classes. We feel that they should be rewarded for the effort of getting supplies to each of their students. Many teachers never receive what they truly deserve for spreading the knowledge of this beautiful art. We would like to know a little about you, your classes and your students needs.

The teacher's prices are not just a given right. It is a reward we are giving for your hard work. The discount is not automatically given to those that say "I am a teacher". The discounts are for the teachers' supplies for a class and what she is ordering for her students. Buying one design for yourself does not qualify unless it is followed up with an order for student supplies. We can only continue to reward the teachers as long as the discount is not abused. A "teacher" in this instance is a Embroidery teacher and is purchasing in that capacity for her students. Your reward is NOT to be passed onto the student. The student MUST pay at least suggested retail price for the product. If this policy is not followed - the discounts will not be allowed. We want your classes to be successful and give you the best prices we can!
